

V8 Super Sedan NSW Title Fight night comes to Gunnedah Sat 6th Dec

We have drivers from 5 states competing in what is sure to be a crackerjack night.

The defending NSW Title holder is Wayne Brims is he is no doubt looking to make it back-to-back victories and the Northern NSW hard charger wants to keep the NSW Title in its own state.

Although Brims is one of the NSW Title favourites he is certainly going to have some stiff competition. The likes of former multiple Australian Title holders Mick Nicola and Ron Pyne are amongst the challengers, and then there are drivers such as Brad Smith, Ian Brims, Mick Doblo, Matt Pascoe, Wayne Miles, David Gartner, Lucas Roberts and a host of other out of town visitors who all have their sights set on success.

In terms of the local runners that are looking to make the NSW Title their own there are drivers such as defending NSW Series champion Lachlan Onley, Tony Barklmore, Wayne Dick, Brett Hignett, Michael Hickey, Brett Smith, Barry Towers and many more including Robert Carrig, John Brown, Darrell McKewon, Michael Hickey, Bernard Roberts, Frank Armstrong and John Perkins.

Support races include an AMCA National invitation with sedan veteran Stu Robertson making a return to racing at Gunnedah. Another one to watch is local driver Scott Lawler who lit up the track on our practice day. Most of the drivers are from the NSW north coast and Queensland and it just shows how keen they are to get laps under their belt.

The Falcon versus Commodore battle continues in the Street Stocks, while the Benders remain a Falcon domain. The 4 cylinder sedans continue to provide great entertainment and are increasing in numbers and the Junior sedans round out the program.
